Dear Dr. Snyman:

I was glad to identify the American item Mrs. Stokes submitted to us and thank you for the delightful book which will fit into our numismatic library.

Serendipity has struck again in a form you would never imagine.

My grandson who is working in Tokyo for the Chase Bank of New York just became engaged to Natalie Holme of Johannesburg and the wedding is planned there in August 1997. My wife and I as well as other family members plan to come. I could see you then, but you are welcome to come here at any time for a museum visit and discussion.

We are enclosing some information as to our museum as you requested. If you would like detailed information on displays, lighting, security, labeling, programs, or library we will gladly give it to you if you are setting up a new museum. We deliver educational programs to about 150 groups per year given by our curator both at the museum and in schools.

If you want to send us any duplicates you have of paper currency of African countries which has become of little value to you we would welcome it.

Tell us exactly how you want us to be of help and our information can be much more effective. We have 1800 square feet of space and wonder what you need. We concentrate on American exhibits but often show money of other countries of the world. We aim towards popular and historical exhibits rather than technical numismatic exhibits.

If we can be of further assistance please let us know.

Sincerely,

Eric P. Newman
